

Rancho Mark West Landscape Masterplan

Location: Santa Rosa, California
 Type: Landscape Masterplan
 Began: 2016
 Status: Completed
 Contact: Craig Anderson, Director or Lee Hackeling
 LandPaths
 P.O. Box 4648
 Santa Rosa, CA 95402-4648
 (707) 544-7284

Description:

Rancho Mark West is a rustic property in Santa Rosa, CA that hosts LandPaths 'Owl Camp' each year. This camp teaches grade school children (with a focus on underserved kids) about the environment-while allowing them to enjoy being in a nature-swimming, gardening and canoeing etc. This masterplan was created using a group process that included volunteers. This was done to allow the unique qualities of the 'Red Barn' and the 'Old Ranch' atmosphere to be enhanced while adding a rainwater catchment tank and othe amenities to the site. Art was used to explain scientific concepts such as a histogram of historic rainfall totals on the site.

Hobbit Round Gate

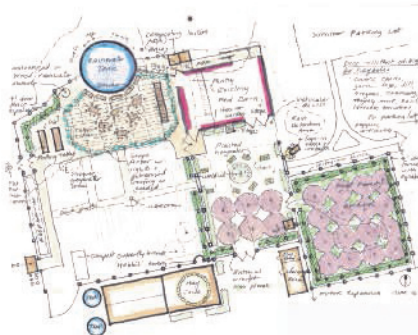

Kid-Powered Sundial

W/C and Welcome House

Fence Rainfall Histogram

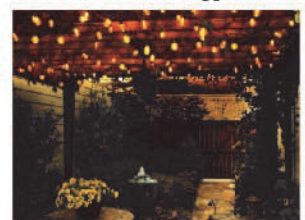

'Red Barn' Area Landscape Concept Plan

Custom Oak Tables/3 legged stools

Arbor for Shade with Grapevines

Arbor at Night